

Care & Storage

Autoglym stockists, car polish, Connolly hide food and care kits, Gliptone leather care. Indoor car covers, outdoor car covers and Renovo car hood care.

Many years ago, in our search for the best available bodywork protection products, we came across POR15, and we still believe this to be the best. As one of the largest stockists in the country, we hold an extensive range of their products, including their brilliant fuel tank sealer. Once the car is in top condition, we can offer the Autoglym range and both indoor and outdoor car covers to protect it. You will also find specialist leather care products and treatments for car hoods.

In 1878, two brothers, John Joseph and Samuel Frederick Connolly started one of the first while-you-wait shoe repair shops in London's Euston Road. They progressed to buy and finish leather on their own and then supplied hood-makers and coach builders. When the latter started to make the bodies for the motor car, and the motor industry was born, the Connolly brothers were there from the outset.

Connolly Leather was on the first Rolls Royce, Bentley, Ferrari, Maserati, Aston Martin, Jaguar and Morgan to name but a few. Connolly leather remained the manufacturers' standard upholstery material until Connolly Brothers retired from the mass original equipment market in the early 1990s.
